Georgia's unbeaten and untied Bulldogs have advanced to recognition as the nation's outstanding college football force and there doesn't seem to be much their rivals for the honor can do about it in the near future.

Georgia's feat in toppling Alabama's powerhouse last Saturday brought the Bulldogs to the top of The Associated Press weekly poll of sports writers yesterday with 84 5-6 first place votes and 1,189 1/2 points out of a total of 127 ballots cast.

Wisconsin vaulted into second place in the ranking by upsetting Ohio State, which had been rated the No. 1 eleven in the country for the first three weeks of the poll. There also was a reshuffling of the other gridiron greats from top to bottom.

Easy Games Ahead

But out of the overhauling came an appearance of security for Georgia because the Bulldogs' schedule in the next three weeks calls for comparatively mild opposition from Florida, Chattanooga and Auburn before their traditional season's finale with Georgia Tech, also unbeaten and ranked third in this week's voting.

Wisconsin received 20 1-3 first-place votes and 1,051 points, based on ten for first, nine for second, eight for third, etc. The beating by the Badgers kept Ohio State from tallying a single first-place vote.

Georgia Tech, which had been fifth a week ago, supplanted Alabama in third place with 35-6 first-place votes and 902 1/2 points. The Southeastern Conference schedule, incidentally, will bring these foes together Nov. 14.

Notre Dame held fourth position. Army and Texas Christian dropped out of the group and made room for Pennsylvania and U. C. L. A.
