

OKLAHOMA IS FIRST IN FINAL BALLOTING

Gets 213 of 319 First-Place Votes in Associated Press Poll—Army Eleven Next

Coach Bud Wilkinson, who expected his graduation-riddled Oklahoma team to get its lumps this year, wound up instead with the nation's No. 1 football squad of 1950.

The Sugar Bowl-bound Sooners were ranked first in the final Associated Press poll of the season yesterday with Army's all-conquering Cadets a distant second.

Third place was awarded to Texas, beaten only by Oklahoma, 14—13. The Longhorns were followed by Tennessee, California, Princeton, Kentucky, Michigan State, Michigan and Clemson in the order named.

Sugar Bowl Gets Top Team

The Sugar Bowl extravaganza will send the No. 1 team against the No. 7 squad—Kentucky. The Cotton Bowl winds up with another topnotch pairing—Texas, No. 3, vs. Tennessee, No. 4.

Pasadena's Rose Bowl also will have two of the first ten in action—California, No. 5, vs. Michigan, No. 9. The Miami Orange Bowl pairs Clemson, No. 10 against Miami, No. 15.

A total of 319 sports writers and sports broadcasters from coast-to-coast took part in the final balloting and 213 named Oklahoma as their No. 1 choice. All told, the Sooners garnered 2,963 points.

Army Draws 2,380 Points

Army, which finished as the No. 2 team last year behind Notre Dame, piled up a total of 2,380 points. The Cadets were named first by thirty-eight experts.

Thrice-beaten Notre Dame didn't even make the top twenty. It was the first time in a decade the Irish didn't rate a berth in the first ten.

Standings of the teams with points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis (first-place votes in parentheses):
