

Lost Ballot Cost Virginia Notch In U. S. Rankings

New York, Nov. 8 (AP).—It turns out that an injustice has been done to Virginia in the Associated Press weekly ranking poll of the Nation's leading football elevens.

A ballot cast by Sports Editor Larry Leonard of the Richmond News Leader, in which he voted Virginia the country's No. 1 team, was somehow overlooked by the Associated Press' tabulations, it as been found.

If the Cavaliers had been credited with the 10 points for first place, represented by the errant ballot, they would have replaced Minnesota as the No. 9 team in the week's ranking, instead of the No. 10 spot they were given.

Manhattan Wins Race

New York, Nov. 8 (AP).—Manhattan College won the Metropolitan Intercollegiate Cross Country title today with a perfect score of 15
